

Collection Management Policy

Created: September 2022, Reviewed and Approved May 2024

Purpose

The purpose of the collection management policy is to establish general guidelines, responsibility, and criteria for the selection, purchase, gifting, and withdrawal of materials for the library collections in accordance with the Lincoln Pelham Public Library's mission and strategic plan.

LPPL Vision Statement

LPPL enriches lives with inclusivity, inspiration, responsiveness, and resilience.

The library's collections are one of the primary ways this vision is realized. We will develop and maintain collections that inspire and engage, uphold intellectual freedom and reflect all members of the community.

Policy Statement

Collection management is an ongoing process requiring professional judgment to balance competing needs and demands while maximizing the fiscal resources entrusted to the library. The responsibility for selection of all materials rests with the Library CEO acting in accordance with the policies established by the Lincoln Pelham Public Library Board. The Collection Development Policy includes guidelines that help the collection respond to community needs while insulating the collection oversight process from societal and political pressures.

Scope

A significant responsibility is to serve customers by providing a broad choice of materials to meet their informational, educational, cultural, and recreational needs. Lincoln Pelham Public Library will ensure adequate representation of diverse cultures and foster equitable access. We want everyone who visits to see themselves represented in the library's collections.

LPPL attempts to provide equitable distribution of its materials throughout the system. The library aims to establish a balanced collection which adequately represents various points of view on a subject. The library is aware that some items in its collection may be offensive in whole or in part to some customers. While the Library respects individual's rights to express their views, it upholds the right of other individuals to have access to those same items. The selection of an item by the library does not in itself constitute endorsement of the viewpoint or information expressed in that item.

The online collection represents the diverse viewpoints and interests of the entire community the library serves, and it evolves as new formats and products become available.

Responsibilities

The Lincoln Pelham Public Library Board assumes ultimate responsibility for the collection and for implementation of the Collection Management Policy. The Library Board delegates this responsibility to the Chief Executive Officer who in turn delegates it to qualified staff. Qualified staff are responsible for following the principles of selection of the Collection Management Policy. The library holds that the responsibility for the use of materials by children and youth rests with their parents or legal guardians. The library's selection and classification of materials does not eliminate the possibility that children may obtain items that their parents or legal guardians may consider inappropriate.

Principles of Selection

The following criteria are used to evaluate materials. The criteria are applied to all materials, regardless of format, whether purchased or gifted. Items need not meet all the criteria to be acceptable. These criteria are not listed in any order of priority.

- suitability of physical form and technical quality for library use
- budgetary and space priorities
- opportunity to broaden horizons, inspire imagination and reflection
- artistic and literary merit
- relationship to existing collections and other material on the subject
- suitability of reading level for the intended audience
- current and potential relevance to community needs & interests
- authoritativeness of the writer and reputation of the publisher
- enduring value and quality of writing and/or visual and/or audio content
- importance as a document of current and past times

- Canadian and local content
- popular demands and trends, both existing and anticipated
- balance special interests and points of view with general demand in order to provide insight and contribution to questions and problems of topical interest.
- availability of similar material within the community and other libraries
- We consult industry-standard materials selection resources for reviews including but not limited to Booklist, Kirkus Reviews and Library Journal.

Self-published materials (in addition to the criteria listed above):

- authors must be a resident of the Niagara Region, or the book must take place in the Niagara Region or otherwise demonstrate a strong local interest.
- self-published nonfiction authors must have proven reputation and qualifications on the topic they have written about (an example of such qualifications would be a related post-secondary degree and/or have professionally and extensively worked in the industry) and the self-published title will be positively and professionally vetted and peer reviewed.

An item need not satisfy all the above criteria to be acceptable.

Intellectual Freedom: Lincoln Pelham Public Library endorses the Canadian Federation of Library Association's Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries dated April 12, 2019. <https://cfla-fcab.ca/en/guidelines-and-position-papers/statement-on-intellectual-freedom-and-libraries/>

Gifts and Donations

Lincoln Pelham Public Library has the discretion to accept gifts of materials that may be considered for the library collection and reserves the right to decide the disposition of gifts received. No condition may be imposed by the donor on the library relating to any item after its acceptance. Once received, materials are the exclusive property of the library.

Suggestions from the Public

The library welcomes suggestions from the public for additions to the collection. Suggestions will be evaluated in accordance with the criteria in this policy.

Collection Maintenance

To keep the collection timely and attractive, materials are withdrawn when they are:

- worn or damaged

- redundant
- duplicate copies
- overrepresented in the collection
- outdated and/or no longer accurate.
- infrequently used and there is a lack of demand
- available elsewhere including other libraries and online

Replacement of items depends upon the demand for that title, the availability of more current materials on the subject and the extent of the coverage of the subject in the collection.

Reconsideration of Materials

The library recognizes the right of an individual or group to make a complaint about the inclusion of material in the library's collection. In the event of such a complaint the following steps will be followed:

- The individual or group will be asked to complete a Request for Reconsideration form (see Appendix A). One form per item to be reconsidered.
- The completed form will be forwarded to the Library CEO.
- The Library CEO will review the material in question, gather additional outside information if required, and make a decision using the principles outlined in this policy.
- Upon review, the individual or group will be provided with the decision and a written explanation.
- If the complainant is not satisfied with the response, the submitted Request for Reconsideration and the CEO's report will be forwarded to the Library Board for review.
